DEEP DIVE BREATHWORK RETREAT

Immersive Experiential Retreat

WHY THE BREATH, WHY NOW

In recent years, anxiety and chronic stress have reached unprecedented levels worldwide.

Long before the pandemic, nearly one in three people experienced an anxiety disorder at some point in life, and global rates have continued to rise.

Chronic stress does not only affect our emotional wellbeing, it is linked to cardiovascular disease, weakened immunity, cognitive decline and overall health deterioration.

Many approaches to stress management rely on external support, such as therapy or medication. While often helpful, these solutions are not always accessible and can come with limitations.

Breathing offers a different entry point.

Scientific research shows that regulated breathing practices can directly influence the autonomic nervous system, helping shift the body from a state of stress to one of restoration.

By strengthening parasympathetic activity, the branch responsible for rest and recovery, breathing practices support emotional regulation, mental clarity and physiological balance.

Simple and accessible, conscious breathing places a powerful tool directly in our hands.

THE TECHNIQUE

At the heart of our practice is Circular Diaphragmatic Breathing.

While the diaphragm is the body's natural breathing muscle, most of us rely on the chest or back muscles, leading to shallow and inefficient breath.

Awakening and mobilizing the diaphragm improves breathing, but its effects go far beyond.

The diaphragm influences the nervous system, the vagus nerve, and even brain activity, impacting the entire mind-body system.

We also use pressure and hands on techniques in order to facilitate the opening of the breath and the relaxation of the body.

By reconnecting with deep, circular breathing from the lower belly, the body begins to release tension stored from years of holding and control.

Our approach encourages expression: movement, sounds, and emotional release occur in a safe, supportive space.

Participants are supported during all the week, the environment is designed to create safety, trust, and presence, allowing the nervous system to reset and the heart to open.

BENEFITS of Diaphragmatic Circular Breathing

- postural support and axial alignment
- strengthening of pelvic floor and abdominal muscles
- drawing air deep into the lungs optimizing oxygen intake
- improvement of functional movement, visceral function and lymph drainage
- cortisol lowering and stress releasing
- improvement of heart rate, blood pressure and circulation
- relaxation of mind and regulation of emotions
- releasing and integration of memories stocked in our bodies

WHO IS THIS FOR

This retreat is the very first step of our journey with the breath and is designed for anyone who wants to:

- Reconnect with themselves and find balance in mind, body, and spirit.
- Explore the power of breathwork to release tension, increase energy, and deepen self-awareness.
- Experience a supportive community of like-minded people on the same journey.
- Take time to pause, reflect, and recharge away from the everyday hustle.

It is also ideal for psychologists, medical professionals, and wellness facilitators who wish to explore breathwork as a powerful support for healing processes.

There are no age limits or contraindications, and no prior experience is required. Whether you're new to breathwork or an experienced practitioner, this retreat offers tools, guidance, and inspiration to help you grow, heal, and thrive.
